

RE-TIDE

Re-Tide is the Italian disco-house project launched in 2010 by Mattei & Omich together with Andrea Prezioso.

Built around a strong connection between classic disco, funk and contemporary house music, the project has developed an international profile through an extensive catalogue of original productions, remixes and club-focused releases.

Over the years Re-Tide has become one of the key projects within the M&O Music catalogue, with music released across the group's labels and supported through major digital stores, streaming platforms and DJ networks worldwide.

The project continues to evolve through new productions and collaborations while keeping its identity firmly rooted in disco and house music.
